Many model – one customization specialist

MANSORY convinces everyone with their ISO-certified quality products or superior designs. Whether it is aerodynamics optimised in the wind tunnel or vehicle components tested extensively on racetracks, MANSORY sets the standards when it comes to the customization of Aston Martin automobiles. The selection of the finest materials that only dreams seem to be made of also emphasise MANSORY's superb expertise. Exclusively manufactured light alloy wheels, electronic and mechanical components complete the powerful enhancements of high-performance engines and bring the comprehensive portfolio of MANSORY to a full circle. What attracts drivers to this vehicle with rich tradition is based on its engineering and creative innovations, in all aspects of exclusive individualization of a vehicle.

Nearly all aerodynamic components are fabricated by the engineers at MANSORY of high-tensile polyurethane (PU-RIM) and from prepreg autoclave carbon, characteristic of MANSORY. During the process, the carbon-fibre parts are given a permanent shape in autoclaves by using vacuum and heat, which guarantees a perfect surface finish with low weight.

Interior

As usual, MANSORY turns the interior into a quality and innovative design that is second to none. Using superb style and perfect craftsmanship, MANSORY integrates state-of-the-art entertainment components and combines them with exquisite surfaces made of the finest leathers, exotic woods, exposed carbon, or aluminium trims.

Fully forged & Alloy Wheels

Especially adjusted to the stylistic features and the technical requirements of the Aston Martin's range of vehicles, MANSORY developed a 20-inch rim. The design of the ultra-light forged wheel unites sportiness and elegance and perfectly fills out the wheel houses.

In addition, a perfectly adjusted coilover suspension lowers the centre of gravity of this noble sports car and renders perfect road holding characteristics.

High Performance

MANSORY offers sport exhaust systems with a powerful sound. The result of this interaction between jazzy tailpipe, sports catalytic converter, and high performance manifold is an optimized exhaust gas system and a vastly improved vehicle response, especially in the lower RPM range.
