SPECIFICATION OF SPORTS MODEL.

THE Chassis of the Sports Model is precisely similar to that of the Touring Model, except that it is fitted with an overhead valve engine of a high efficiency type, having four cylinders of 65 mm. bore  $\times$  112 mm. stroke = 1486 c.c.

There are two overhead valves in each cylinder, inclined at an angle of  $45^\circ$  to the vertical, giving a hemispherical head, two overhead camshafts operate these valves through light tappets of the inverted thimble type. The crankshaft is exceptionally robust, and is carried in three white metal bearings, and the big end bearings are also of white metal. Both the crankshaft and camshafts are hollow, and receive lubricant under pressure from a gear pump driven off the train of gears which drives the camshafts and all accessories. The water circulation is by a centrifugal pump. A Rotax dynamo igniter supplies the current for the lighting and starting equipment, which is of Lucas manufacture, and for the ignition, while a vertical Zenith or other carburettor supplies the mixture.

Chassis complete with same equipment as the touring car : £695. Tax £11.
